

4th February 2022

You can read a summary of this letter in bullet points on page 3.

Dear family member,

I felt it was important to write to you as soon as possible following this week's government U-turn on mandatory vaccinations for health and social care workers in England so that I can explain what has happened and share our response. I also want to launch our new survey of family members and friends, and remind you about our Family Portal.

So regarding the first point, the government has now decided to retract the requirement for people working in social care to be vaccinated. There will be a short period of consultation before the changes are confirmed, but we fully expect the legislation to be retracted as there is cross-party support for this.

During the initial government consultation, we opposed mandatory vaccination. This was not because we don't want to do everything possible to keep your loved one safe, but because we knew that it would add further pressures on an already struggling sector. However, we have of course had to abide by the legislation and have been working hard over the last number of months to implement the rules. Now that the legislation is being retracted, however, we are no longer seeking to dismiss unvaccinated colleagues and will no longer insist on vaccination of new colleagues.

I imagine some of you will be relieved that unvaccinated support colleagues who are excellent at what they do will now no longer have to leave us in April, but I suspect many more will be anxious that unvaccinated colleagues may present an infection risk to your loved one. What I will say, therefore, is that the health and wellbeing of your loved one remains our top priority and we are not letting up on any of our infection control measures. These include the use of PPE and regular testing – in fact, all colleagues will have to take a lateral flow test before every shift from 16th February. Visitors will still have to obtain a negative lateral flow test on the day of their visit and have their temperature checked.

It is also the case that we remain very much in favour of the vaccination programme and continue to encourage all colleagues to get vaccinated and have their boosters, because the evidence is still clear that the vaccination programme works.

If you have any concerns or questions about this, please feel free to contact our helpline for families from 9.30am to 1.30pm, Monday to Friday, on 0300 303 9161 or by email at family.helpline@dimensions-uk.org.

The second thing I want to share with you in this letter is that we are today launching our biennial survey of family members and friends of the people we support. At Dimensions we value your involvement and take your views seriously. This is why we introduced the Family Pledge, and why we would really appreciate it if you could help us to improve the way we support your relative or friend by answering a few questions. You can complete the survey anonymously, but if you would like to be entered in to the prize draw for a £50 gift voucher, we will need you to provide your name and postal, or email, address at the end of the form. Your answers will be kept confidential.

A print version of the survey is attached to this letter, and you can also complete it online here: <https://dimensionsurveys.survey.fm/south>. There are different versions of the survey for each region so that we can analyse the results more fully. If you complete the form by hand, then it can be posted back to “Freepost DIMENSIONS” (just these two words) by Friday 25th March 2022. You may copy this form or send the link to another relative or friend if they would also like to complete it. Thank you very much for taking part.

Finally, I would like to remind you about our Family Portal. This gives you a window into the daily life of your loved one and I hope it will make it even easier for you to feel closely connected to them and fully aware of how we support them to thrive. All family members of people we support who have their daily notes recorded on iplanit can use the Family Portal. You can see your loved one’s calendar and find out what they’re up to today, next week or next month. You can also use it to take a look at their latest photos, review their detailed daily records – ranging from health information to what they had for dinner – and explore the things they are working towards as part of their Activate outcomes.

Different people will be able to see different things. For example, perhaps a person we support would like his or her whole family to have access to their photo albums, but not to his or her personal medical details. So long as the person has the capacity to choose, they make the decisions on who sees what. If a person lacks capacity to choose, then a Best Interests meeting must be held and decisions can be made from there.

Full information about the Family Portal, including guides on how to use it, is available on our website (www.dimensions-uk.org). Simply click on ‘Best practice’ and then scroll down to the first item in the ‘Features of our support’ section. If you would like to have an account set up on the Family Portal, please speak to your loved one’s locality manager who will be able to do this for you. If you need any support with using it, then please contact our Helpline for Families. Please also be aware that there is no requirement to use the Family Portal and we completely understand if you would rather not.

As you will know, my time as Dimensions Group Chief Executive is coming to end and I will shortly be passing on the reins to my very able successor, Rachael Dodgson. I will be writing one last time to you later this month with my farewells.

Yours sincerely,

Steve Scown
Chief Executive

Proving life can get better

Key points from the letter

- The government has reversed its decision to make vaccination against Covid-19 necessary for all health and social workers in England from 1st April.
- The government is also ending the requirement for workers in Registered Care Homes to be vaccinated against Covid-19.
- Therefore we will no longer be dismissing unvaccinated colleagues.
- Also, vaccination will no longer be a requirement for new colleagues.
- We remain in favour of vaccination and will continue to encourage colleagues and the people we support to get vaccinated and to have their booster jab.
- We will continue to implement all of our infection control measures to keep people safe.
- If you have any questions, you can contact our helpline for families on 0300 303 9161 or by email at family.helpline@dimensions-uk.org.
- Please take part in our survey of family members and friends by visiting this website: <https://dimensionssurveys.survey.fm/south> – or by completing the attached form.
- The survey is confidential and you can remain anonymous if you wish. If you do provide your contact details, you can be entered into a prize draw.
- Please also consider whether you would like to set up an account on our Family Portal so that you can know more about the support your loved one is receiving – although we completely understand if you would rather not.
- Steve Scown will write to families again later this month before he leaves and Rachael Dodgson becomes chief executive.
